

Licence for Publication in Journal of Social Intervention: Theory and Practice

The undersigned,

Name of the Author(s),
to be referred to further as 'the Author',

hereby grants to

Utrecht University of Applied Sciences [Hogeschool Utrecht], specifically, the Faculty of Society and Law, located in Utrecht, the Netherlands, to be referred to further as 'the Publisher',

the following Licence.

Preamble

This agreement relates to the publication of academic works and represents a balance between the rights of the Author and the Publisher consistent with the basic principle that:

- the Author and Publisher believe that it is in the public interest to furnish maximum access to academic works without quality or academic freedom being compromised, certainly if such works have been financed with public resources.

Article 1 Definitions

The following terms shall have the following meanings:

1. Acceptance: notice to the Author by the Publisher of its willingness to publish the Author's work;
2. Article: the published version of the Author's work, titled
" _____ ";
3. Publication: the Open Access Journal of Social Intervention: Theory and Practice

Article 2 Licence

1. Upon Acceptance, the Author shall, at no cost and for the duration of the copyright, grant the Publisher a licence to exercise certain rights regarding the Article which are included in the copyright:
  - a. The Publisher shall be entitled to publish the Article initially by reproducing and publishing this (in whole or in part) in printed and/or digital form, in combination or not with the works of third parties, by making it available online through the Internet or any other network, as part of a database, online or offline, made available to third parties for use, distribution, copying, and transmitting.
  - b. The Publisher shall have the initial right to translate the Article and to reproduce and publish the translated Article;
  - c. The Publisher shall be entitled to file the Article in its original form and to include this in its digital repository;
  - d. The Publisher shall be entitled to adapt the Article in consultation with the Author and to reproduce and publish the adapted Article, insofar as necessary to publish the Author's work;
  - e. The Publisher shall have the non-exclusive right to store the translated or non-translated Article in whole or in part as an adaptation, extract or summary in an automated database and to make this accessible to third parties;

- f. The Publisher shall have the non-exclusive right to include the translated or adapted Article in whole or in part in anthologies and other compilations;
  - g. The Publisher shall have the non-exclusive right to reuse the Article, whether or not in adapted or summary form or through citation for research and education, provided the Author's name is stated and the source is listed;
  - h. The Publisher must clearly inform readers of the Article that they shall require the Author's permission for any commercial use of the Article.
2. The Publisher shall ensure that the Author's name is stated and the source is listed.

Article 3 The Author's rights and obligations

1. The licence shall in any event include the following rights and obligations for the Author:
  - a. The Author shall be entitled to make the Article available to third parties through distribution, online transmission or another form of transmission.
  - b. With regard to making the Article available to others, the Author shall have the following rights:
    - the right to grant the institution where the Author works or an institution with which the Author is otherwise affiliated permission to include the Article in its own closed or open network after publication of the Article;
    - the right to grant the institution where the Author works permission to include the Article, after it appears in the Publication, in this institution's repository which is freely accessible to the public or in a decentralized, digital repository, provided the Author places a hyperlink from the Article to the Publisher's website.
  - c. The Author shall be entitled to reproduce and publish the Article, where appropriate by entering into a licensing agreement with another publisher.
  - d. The Author must inform users of the Article that it falls under the Creative Commons licence version V3, the Netherlands. The following conditions apply in this respect: identification of the author, non-commercial use and non-derivative work.
2. The Author or Publisher hereby undertakes to always list the source in full (including listing at least the name of the Author(s), title and issue of the Publication, and the Publisher's name) for any form of use or reuse of the Article as stated above, unless this is not possible.

Article 4 Moral rights

The Author's moral rights regarding the Article shall not be affected by this agreement. Specifically, the Author shall be entitled to be identified as the Author of the Article, and he/she shall have the right to oppose mutilation or impairment of his/her Article.

Article 5 Indemnification

1. The Author hereby warrants that he/she holds the full copyright to the Article and that he/she is not infringing any third-party rights through his/her Article. The Author shall indemnify the Publisher against any claims by third parties on account of the Publication of the Article. This indemnification shall likewise pertain to any photographs, drawings or other illustrations provided by the Author with his/her Article, unless the copyright to the illustrations is expressly retained by the Author when his/her Article is offered.
2. The Author hereby authorizes the Publisher to take legal action in cooperation with the Author against any infringement of the copyright. The parties hereby undertake to provide each other any desired assistance and to furnish any necessary information upon request.

Article 6 Publication obligation

The Publisher hereby undertakes to publish the Author's work within a reasonable period after Acceptance.

Article 7 Author's copies

The Author shall be entitled to a copy or to access to the Publication concerned.

Article 8 Legal relationship

1. The Publisher shall be entitled to transfer its exploitation rights regarding the Article to a third party, provided this third party fulfils the obligations assumed by the Publisher vis-à-vis the Author.
2. If the Author can demonstrate that his/her moral interests are being harmed through a specific use of his/her Article by the Publisher pursuant to this Licence, he/she may ask the Publisher to cease the use in question. The Publisher shall grant this request, unless this cannot reasonably be required of it, in the light of the academic or historical value of the Article.
3. Termination of the agreement shall not impair rights duly granted to third parties by the Publisher before this.

Article 9 Multiple Authors

If there is more than one Author, the Author has permission from each Author to enter into this agreement on his/her behalf.

Article 10 Applicable law

This agreement shall be governed by the law of the country where the Author resides. Disputes shall be presented to the competent court in the aforementioned country in accordance with normal jurisdictional rules.

Article 11 Final provision

The agreement shall take effect on the date of Acceptance.
