Programme Specification

This programme specification is relevant to students entering:
17 September 2018

Associate Dean of School (Academic Quality Assurance):
Marjolein Groefsema

Signature

A programme specification is a collection of key information about a programme of study (or course). It identifies the aims and learning outcomes of the programme, lists the modules that make up each stage (or year) of the programme, and the teaching, learning and assessment methods used by teaching staff. It also describes the structure of the programme, its progression requirements and any programme-specific regulations. This information is therefore useful to potential students to help them choose the right programme of study, to current students on the programme, and to staff teaching and administering the programme.

A. Programme Rationale

The rationale for this programme is to provide students with a structured sequence of modules through which they can develop their knowledge and understanding topics and methodologies within Film as a minor within the framework of the Humanities Programme or the Mass Communications Programme.

The Programme is designed to complement, support and enhance students' studies in other subjects within the framework of the Humanities Programme and the Mass Communications Programme.

The Programme is designed to recruit students who have some or no previous experience of Film.

Graduates are equipped for a variety of careers including those traditionally open to honours graduates in Communications and related disciplines, e.g. teaching, the civil service, local government, journalism, marketing and communications, media-related industries. The Programme also prepares students for further study at Postgraduate Level.

B. Educational Aims of the Programme

The programme has been devised in accordance with the University's graduate attributes of programmes of study as set out in UPR TL03.

Additionally this programme aims to:

- Provide students (including those who are new to the subject) with the opportunity to study a stimulating, challenging and enjoyable, but also balanced, range of topics and materials from different historical and theoretical periods, and a variety of approaches to studying Film;
- Equip students with a range of intellectual and subject-specific skills;
- Equip students with a range of transferable skills.

C. Intended Learning Outcomes

The programme provides opportunities for students to develop and demonstrate knowledge and understanding, skills and other attributes in the following areas. The programme outcomes are referenced to the QAA benchmark statements for Communication, Media, Film and Cultural Studies and the Frameworks for Higher Education Qualifications of UK Degree-Awarding Bodies (2014) and relate to the typical student. Additionally, the SEEC Credit Level Descriptors for Further and Higher Education (2016) have been used as a guiding framework for curriculum design.

Professional and Statutory Regulatory Bodies

N/A

Work-Based Learning, including Sandwich Programmes

An award in the sandwich mode requires the successful completion of at least 36 weeks placement activity from a maximum of two separate placements in addition to the period of academic study required for the full-time award. This optional placement year is undertaken after Level 5 and before Level 6 and meets the SEEC criteria for Level 6.

Erasmus Exchange programme

Erasmus students are permitted to study Film modules at all levels.

Programme Structure

The programme structure and progression information below (Table 1a and 1b) is provided for the Honours award. Any interim awards are identified in Table 1b. The Programme Learning Outcomes detailed above are developed and assessed through the constituent modules. Table 2 identifies where each learning outcome is assessed.

Table 1a Outline Programme Structure

Mode of study Full-time, part-time

Students on a part-time mode of study are allowed to take up to five 15 credit modules per year and most normally choose to study between 2 and 5 modules per year, with modules being taken in each semester. Varying rates of study are possible: students can increase or decrease their rate of study year by year or semester by semester in response to their changing circumstances. Students are entitled to take a break from study for a semester or even a year if their circumstances require it. Students can apply to transfer to a full-time rate of study; this should be arranged at the beginning of the academic year.

Programme-specific assessment regulations

The programme complies with the University's academic regulations (in particular, UPR AS11, UPR AS12 and UPR AS14) with the exception of those listed below, which have been approved by the University:

- None

Further programme-specific regulations (with School-level approval) are given below:

- Progression from one Level to the next depends on meeting the pre-requisite requirements: students must normally have 30 credits in Film at the lower Level before progressing to study of Film at the higher Level.
- Attendance at all scheduled learning and teaching sessions is required on this programme. To pass a module, a student must have attended 75% of the learning and teaching sessions at which attendance is required.

If attendance falls below 75% on a Level 4 module a student will normally be deemed to have failed the module at the first attempt and will not be permitted to undertake referred assessment in the module.

If attendance falls below 75% on a Level 5 or Level 6 module but not lower than 50% and the student passes the assessment, the module grade will be capped at the pass mark (40%). If attendance falls below 75% on a Level 5 or Level 6 module and the student fails the assessment or attendance falls below 50%, the student will normally be deemed to have failed the module at the first attempt and will not be permitted to undertake referred assessment in the module.

Students who have a disability which might impact on their attendance should consult with their disability advisor.

F. Other sources of information

In addition to this Programme Specification, the University publishes guidance to registered students on the programme and its constituent modules:

- A Programme Specification for the programmes that the Subject contributes to;
- A Programme (or Student) Handbook;
- A Subject Guide;
- A Definitive Module Document (DMD) for each constituent module;
- A Module Guide for each constituent module.

The Herts Handbook is an introduction to the academic, social, cultural and sporting services and opportunities available at the University of Hertfordshire, and includes the Student Charter and Student Code of Conduct.

As a condition of registration, all students of the University of Hertfordshire are required to comply with the University's rules, regulations and procedures. These are published in a series of documents called 'University Policies and Regulations' (UPRs). The University requires that all students consult these documents which are available on-line, on the UPR web site, at: <http://www.herts.ac.uk/secreg/upr/>. In particular, UPR SA07 'Regulations and Advice for Students' Particular Attention - Index' provides information on the UPRs that contain the academic regulations of particular relevance for undergraduate and taught postgraduate students.

The UK Quality Assurance Agency for Higher Education (QAA) has confirmed the quality and standards of provision at the University of Hertfordshire. A key part of QAA's role is to review and report on how universities maintain their academic standards and quality, to inform students and the wider public. The team of QAA reviewers visited the University of Hertfordshire in 2015/16 and judged that its academic standards, the quality and enhancement of its students' learning experience, and the quality of information about this learning experience all meet UK expectations. In other words, the University meets national requirements for standards and quality. The QAA's report can be accessed at: <http://www.qaa.ac.uk/reviews-and-reports/provider?UKPRN=10007147#.V-KHajXy0nE>
