Important points

- This course receives accreditation from the Association for Nutrition (number: 272)
- This is one of the few Nutrition courses that offers an 80-hour work placement as part of a core final year module. In addition, we offer an optional 12-month work placement, in the third year, as part of a sandwich degree.
- The placement must be approved by the School prior to commencement. Depending on the nature of the placement, you may require successful Disclosure and Barring Service and Occupational Health checks.
- Full attendance is expected from all students. Some modules have formal attendance requirements, which, if not met, may affect progression.
- You will be expected to adhere to the 'Principles of Professional Behaviour' as outlined in the University Fitness to Practise Policy, or any successor documents, policy, or procedures
- All modules are compulsory and must be passed in order to progress
- An additional module in Chemistry must be taken and passed for students with insufficient prior qualifications in this subject

Academic Year

Academic Year 2019 - 2020

The University's academic year is made up of 3 Semesters. For most undergraduate/postgraduate students the academic year is split into two Semesters (A & B). Each of these is made up of teaching weeks followed by exams (the re-sit period falls within Semester C)

- Semester A runs from Monday 23 September 2019 to Friday 17 January 2020
- Semester B runs from Monday 20 January 2020 to Friday 22 May 2020
- Semester C runs from Monday 25 May 2020 to Friday 18 September 2020

Undergraduate study requires extensive reading and access to reference works. Recommended texts are available in the Learning Resources Centre, however availability may be limited so students may wish to purchase their own copies. The average price of a recommended text is approximately £50, although you may be able to buy second-hand copies.

The University does not charge tuition fees for their placement year but you may incur additional costs, e.g., for travel and accommodation. Additional expenses may also be incurred during the final year work experience module.

There may be a tuition fee charge for a study abroad year. Further details are available in the attached 'Fees and Finance' policy.
