Programme Specification

This programme specification is relevant to students entering:
23 September 2019

Associate Dean of School (Academic Quality Assurance):
Marjolein Groefsema

Signature

A programme specification is a collection of key information about a programme of study (or course). It identifies the aims and learning outcomes of the programme, lists the modules that make up each stage (or year) of the programme, and the teaching, learning and assessment methods used by teaching staff. It also describes the structure of the programme, its progression requirements and any programme-specific regulations. This information is therefore useful to potential students to help them choose the right programme of study, to current students on the programme, and to staff teaching and administering the programme.

Programme Specification Creative Writing

This programme specification (PS) is designed for prospective students, enrolled students, academic staff and potential employers. It provides a concise summary of the main features of the programme and the intended learning outcomes that a typical student might reasonably be expected to achieve and demonstrate if he/she takes full advantage of the learning opportunities that are provided. More detailed information on the teaching, learning and assessment methods, learning outcomes and content for each module can be found in Definitive Module Documents (DMDs) and Module Guides.

A. Programme Rationale
The rationale for the Creative Writing pathway is to provide students with a suite of modules via which they can develop their knowledge and understanding of Creative Writing as a practice and develop as writers. Coverage spans different genres, with an increasing emphasis on employability.

Students can study Creative Writing as a joint or minor subject within the framework of the English Language, English Literature, History, Philosophy or Mass Communications Programmes. The rationale for the kinds of modules offered at each level is that, as students progress through levels, the writing projects they encounter should give them skills in different genres and become progressively more challenging.

The Creative Writing Group is committed to offering a programme that enables students to gain a knowledge and enjoyment of the subject which they can take into their future lives but also equip them with transferable skills to improve their employability.

The Creative Writing teaching at the University of Hertfordshire combines a variety of delivery methods with a common purpose of making Creative Writing accessible and meaningful to all our students. Students do not have to have studied Creative Writing previously.

B. Educational Aims of the Programme
The programme has been devised in accordance with the University's graduate attributes of programmes of study as set out in UPR TL03.

Additionally this programme aims to:
- contribute the national provision of Creative Writing by providing for students (including those who are new to the subject) the opportunity to study a stimulating, challenging and enjoyable, but also balanced, range of topics and materials, covering different genres and styles of writing;
- allow students to explore a range of increasingly sophisticated practical skills related to creative writing, taught by practising writers;
- allow students to begin to discover their own writerly voice and develop their creativity;
- equip students with a range of transferable skills.
C. Intended Learning Outcomes

The programme provides opportunities for students to develop and demonstrate knowledge and understanding, skills and other attributes in the following areas. The programme outcomes are referenced to the QAA benchmark statements for Creative Writing and the Frameworks for Higher Education Qualifications of UK Degree-Awarding Bodies (2014) and relate to the typical student. Additionally, the SEEC Credit Level Descriptors for Further and Higher Education (2016) have been used as a guiding framework for curriculum design.

D1. Take responsibility for their own learning, using initiative, effective time-management, self-discipline; Transferable skills are developed through a range of assignments. Skill D1 is developed with students learning to manage themselves and their time to meet reading and assignment submission deadlines across a range of modules and also in the organisation of group and independent project work. Skill D2 is developed in the written work, which all modules require, and also through workshop participation. Skill D3 is developed in workshop discussion and via preparation and delivery of presentations and student-led discussions. D4 is developed throughout as students work on their own creative and critical writing. Throughout, the learner is encouraged to develop transferable skills by maintaining a record of evidence and completing a personal development plan. Transferable skills are assessed through a range of assignments. Skill D1 is not formally assessed but it is expected that students will have to demonstrate this skill in order to pass through the programme and meet module deadlines. Work submitted after the module deadline may be penalised.

Skills D2 and D4 are developed in the written work, which all modules require. For coursework, students are assessed not only on their knowledge and understanding but also on their ability to communicate their ideas effectively, to engage with different viewpoints, to reference appropriately and to present work using recognised genre and scholarly conventions.

Skills D3 is developed in all individual modules and in a number of different ways e.g. presentations, student-led discussion, and workshop contribution.

Skill D4 is assessed via written work.

D. Programme Structures, Features, Levels, Modules, and Credits

The programme is offered in full-time (normally 3 years), sandwich (normally 4 years) and part-time (normally 5 years) modes, and leads to the award BA Degree with Honours with the appropriate title from those listed in Section 1.

Entry is normally at Level 4 (with suitable A level or equivalent qualifications) but is possible at Level 5 and Level 6 with suitable accredited prior learning. Intake is normally in Semester A.

Professional and Statutory Regulatory Bodies
N/A

Work-Based Learning, including Sandwich Programmes
An award in the sandwich mode requires the successful completion of at least 360 hours placement activity from a maximum of two separate placements in addition to the period of academic study required for the full-time award. This optional placement year is undertaken after Level 5 and before Level 6 and meets the SEEC criteria for Level 6.
Erasmus Exchange programme
Erasmus students are permitted to study modules at all levels.

Programme Structure
Creative Writing is offered as a minor and as a joint subject on the English Language, English Literature, History, Philosophy and Mass Communications Programmes. As a minor it comprises one quarter of an Honours student’s Programme and as a joint it comprises half of an Honours student’s Programme.

The programme structure and progression information below (Table 1a and 1b) is provided for the Honours award. Any interim awards are identified in Table 1b. The Programme Learning Outcomes detailed above are developed and assessed through the constituent modules. Table 2 identifies where each learning outcome is assessed. In addition, on the Major-Minor and Joint pathways the Major or Joint Subject/Programme Learning Outcomes are developed and assessed through the constituent modules, as identified within the relevant Subject /Programme Specification.

Table 1a Outline Programme Structure

Mode of study Full-time
Students on a full-time mode of study must normally take the equivalent of eight 15 credit modules per year with the equivalent of four 15 credit modules undertaken per semester. Students taking Creative Writing as a Joint degree must take 60 credits of Creative Writing at each level. Students taking Creative Writing as a minor must take 30 credits of Creative Writing at each level.

In addition, at level 5 students normally study the module 5HUM1064 Graduate and Employability Skills. Failure in this module would not prevent progression, providing the normal progression rules had been met, but would result in a code of FREN (Fail, Re-enrol). Should a student fail the module at the second attempt, a fail would show on his/her transcript.

At level 6, students normally study the module 6HUM1096 Graduate Skills: Career Planning. Failure in this module would not prevent graduation, providing the student has achieved the required credits, but would result in a code of FREN (Fail, Re-enrol), which would show on his/her transcript.

Mode of study Part-time
Students on a part-time mode of study are allowed to take up to five 15 credit modules per year and most normally choose to study between 2 and 5 modules per year, with modules being taken in each semester. Part-time students of Creative Writing require the same number of Creative Writing credits at each level as set out above for the full-time mode.

Varying rates of study are possible: students can increase or decrease their rate of study year by year or semester by semester in response to their changing circumstances. Students are entitled to take a break from study for a semester or even a year if their circumstances require it.

Students can apply to transfer to a full-time rate of study; this should be arranged before the beginning of the academic year.

Sandwich Year

The placement year comprises an agreed period of 36 weeks (including employers’ and statutory holidays) of work based learning a maximum of two institutions or companies which has agreed to those terms and conditions regarded as essential by the University of Hertfordshire. Students will be supervised according to university regulations. The learning experience will be assessed with assessments set by the Employability Tutor to enable students to demonstrate both their knowledge of the industry, their skills development and their professional attributes.

Placements are advertised through the Career and Placements Office and have included areas such as marketing, journalism, PR, management and Policy Units. Students may also source their own placement, but it must be subsequently approved by the School in terms of health and safety, equality legislation and supervisory guidelines before a student can take it up.

All students are eligible to proceed to a placement year provided they have achieved 120 credits at Level 4 and at least 90 credits at Level 5 and have completed the appropriate placement induction and documentation. Success in the placement will be recognised in the title of the award but does not carry additional credit towards the Honours programme.

Year Abroad

The year abroad comprises an agreed programme of study in the third year of a partner institution in Europe (other than the UK), North or South America, Australia or Singapore with which the University of Hertfordshire has an institutional agreement.

A student’s programme of study will be negotiated and approved by the Dean of School (or nominee) in consultation with appropriate others and the host University. The programme provided by the host institution may comprise taught modules, a research project, field studies, or a mixture of these components. The programme of study will require a minimum of 25% of studies to be undertaken in aspects of culture of the placement country. Prior to the commencement of the year abroad, the student and Study Abroad Tutors from UH and the host institution will agree a learning contract. The learning contract will specify the assessment requirements to be met for successful completion of the programme of study. A Module Board of Examiners will consider the results for the year abroad during the first semester of the following academic year. All assessments must be completed by the end of the year abroad, and no subsequent referrals will be permitted. Students who have varied their programme of study without agreement from UH or have failed to meet the requirements of the learning contract will not have their year abroad studies included in the degree title.

A student must confirm the intention to study abroad during the first ten weeks of study at Level 5. This will enable a place to be negotiated at a host institution and the Study Programme and learning contract to be arranged and agreed. Only a limited number of places exist. These will be awarded on the basis of the suitability of students and guided by choice on the most appropriate programme and host institution.

To be eligible to proceed to a year abroad, a student must, by the time of the Semester B Module Boards of Examiners, have achieved at least 210 credits overall, including at least 90 credits at Level 5. Success in the year abroad will be recognised in the title of the award but does not carry additional credit towards the Honours programme.

For the year abroad in Europe where study will be undertaken in a foreign language students must meet the host University’s language requirements.

Honours classification

The University has approved structure and assessment regulations common to all programmes. Full details are provided in UPR AS14, Section D.

Further programme-specific regulations (requiring School-level approval) are given below:

- Progression from one Level to the next depends on meeting the pre-requisite requirements: students must normally have 30 credits in a subject area at the lower Level before progressing to study of that subject at the higher Level;

- Attendance at all scheduled learning and teaching sessions is required on this programme. If attendance falls below 75% on a module but not lower than 50% and the student passes the assessment, the module grade will be capped at the pass mark (40%). If attendance falls below 75% on a module and the student fails the assessment or attendance falls below 50%, the student will normally be deemed to have failed the module at the first attempt and will not be permitted to undertake referred assessment in the module.

Students who have a disability which might impact on their attendance should consult with their disability advisor.
