Important points

The course has been accredited by a Tech Partnership (now TP Degrees) Panel of employers endorsing it as meeting the National Apprenticeship Standard published by the Skills Funding Agency.

All students study at the full rate of 120 credits in the first year, at level 4. Currently students will study Level 5 new modules at a half rate of 60 credits per year and at level 6 students who have passed all modules at levels 4 and 5 (240 credits) may opt to continue at the full “accelerated” rate of 120 credits. Other students, those who elect to do so through their employer and those who do not achieve this standard, will study new modules at the half rate of 60 credits per year.

In order to progress to level 5 studies students will need to pass at least 90 credits and in order to progress to level 6 studies students will need to have passed at least 210 credits at levels 4 and 5 (240 credits if opting to study at the accelerated rate of 12 credits, not 60 credits).
