Important points

The programme is offered full-time over 2 years, for September (Semester A) starters only, and leads to the award of MSc International Business with Advanced Research. MSc International Business is designed to recruit students with a previous knowledge of business/management, typically through study for their first degree. Students study a wide range of business-related disciplines in addition to specialist knowledge of the distinctive challenges of communicating and working effectively across national borders. A wide range of skills are developed, including numeracy, graphicacy, multicultural team-working, awareness of national differences in the cultural, socio-economic and political context of business operations, a reflective approach to learning, and the ability to critically analyse complex business problems so as to reach considered creative solutions. These skills are complemented by the development of a deeper knowledge and understanding of theory related to international business. A choice of business electives offers students the opportunity to pursue individual interests. Finally, the research component provides students with the skills to undertake research and the opportunity to demonstrate knowledge and skills through an extended piece of business research. Graduates are equipped for careers in a wide range of businesses operating in an international environment in developing, emerging and industrialised economies, especially in small and medium-size companies.

MSc International Business with Advanced Research provides a second, taught year in which students study advanced business research and professional and consultancy skills. Students study these in their second year, after their Summer vacation, alongside their postgraduate dissertation.
