Important points

- 1) As a student on the English Literature Programme you may study English Literature as a single honours subject from your first year onwards.
- 2) You may also study a number of other subjects in combination with English Literature. The following subjects can be studied as a Joint or Minor with English Literature:
  - Creative Writing
  - Journalism
  - Media
- 3) In addition, you can study a Joint degree of English Language and Literature, a Joint degree of Philosophy and English Literature or a Joint degree of History and English Literature. For details please refer to the English Language programme specification, the Philosophy programme specification or the History programme specification, which can be found on the relevant webpage on the website www.herts.ac.uk.

You can also study English Literature as a major, with a minor in English Language, Film, History, Philosophy, or a language (French, German, Japanese, Mandarin, Spanish).

- 4) Students have the option of studying other subjects from within the School of Humanities, in place of some of their optional English Literature modules during their first two years.

5) Mandatory Attendance Requirement

You are expected to attend all of your learning and teaching sessions, unless there is a good reason for you not to do so (for example because of a disability). To find out more about your attendance requirements, including the consequences of not meeting them, please refer to the Assessment Regulations section of your Programme Specification. Any regular attendance modification will only be made in liaison with Student Wellbeing with appropriate supporting medical evidence.

6) Placement Year/Year Abroad

You can choose to take a Year Abroad or Placement Year before you start your final year, subject to meeting academic requirements and confirmation of a suitable institution or employer. Please see the Programme Specifications for more details.

The University will not charge you tuition fees during your Placement Year, but you may incur additional costs, including your travel and accommodation, depending on where your placement is located.

7) Terms and Conditions

The English Literature Programme is designed to offer maximum flexibility, but timetabling constraints may mean that some combinations of modules may be unavailable. Where a clash of modules occurs students will be asked to choose a different module. Where a module i.e. a self-contained taught unit is under-subscribed, the University reserves the right not to run that particular module and to place students on their “reserve” choice.

Some modules may have minimum entry requirements, such as achieving a particular grade or taking enough modules in the subject to qualify for a final year dissertation.

Academic Year

Academic Year 2021 – 2022

The University’s academic year is made up of 3 Semesters. For most undergraduate students the academic year is split into two Semesters (A & B). Each of these is made up of teaching weeks followed by exams, if applicable (the re-sit period falls within Semester C)

- Semester A runs from Monday 27 September 2021 to Friday 21 January 2022
- Semester B runs from Monday 24 January 2022 to Friday 13 May 2022
- Semester C runs from Monday 16 May 2022 to Friday 9 September 2022

Additional expenses

Undergraduate study requires extensive reading and access to reference works. Recommended texts are available in the Library either as ebooks or printed material. The average spend for recommended texts is between £75 and £150 per year, depending on the subject or subjects taken. Students on work experience modules may need to pay commuting costs.
