You can find full details of your course in the Programme Specification.

Important points

- As a student on the History Programme you may study History as a single honours subject from your first year onwards.
- You may also study a joint degree with English Language, English Literature, Philosophy. You may also study a degree with Journalism, Film and Creative Writing.
- The course can be studied both full and part time.

Attendance Requirement

You are expected to attend 100% of all timetabled teaching sessions. You will benefit from this because students who attend tend to get better marks and degrees. Engaging with other students is also part of the learning experience.

If you cannot attend a class, you should contact the class tutor (whose details will be on the module Canvas site); you should also consult the module StudyNet site for any handouts or classroom materials stored there.

Terms and Conditions

The History Programme is designed to offer flexibility, but timetabling constraints may mean that some combinations of modules may be unavailable. Where a clash of modules occurs students will be asked to choose a different module. Where a module i.e. a self-contained taught unit is under-subscribed, the University reserves the right not to run that particular module and to place students on their “reserve” choice.

Some modules may have minimum entry requirements, such as achieving a particular grade or taking enough modules in the subject to qualify for a final year dissertation.

Academic Year

Academic Year 2023 – 2024

The University's academic year is made up of 3 Semesters (A, B and C). Semester A and B are made up of teaching weeks (the re-sit period falls within Semester C). Semester C is normally used by postgraduate programmes.

- Semester A runs from Monday 25 September 2023 to Friday 19 January 2024
- Semester B runs from Monday 22 January 2024 to Friday 10 May 2024
- Semester C runs from Monday 13 May 2024 to Friday 6 September 2024

Additional expenses

Undergraduate study requires extensive reading and access to reference works. Recommended texts are always made available in the library either as eBooks or printed material. Availability of printed material may be limited, so you may wish to purchase your own copies. You may be able to purchase second-hand copies of some texts.
