

Safety and Health and the Future of Work

1 May 2019

1:15 - 2:30 pm

Conference Room 12, UNHQ, New York

The protection of workers from harm has been at the core of the ILO's mandate since its inception in 1919. Building on 100 years of experience, this event will explore the changes brought forward when moving into the future of work such as technology, demographics, work organization and climate change.

Discussions will then highlight the challenges and opportunities for occupational Safety and Health (OSH).

SPEAKERS:

Manal Azzi, Technical Specialist on Occupational Safety and Health, ILO

John Howard, Director of the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health

Charles Geraci, NIOSH Associate Director for Emerging Technologies

Mitchel Rosen, Professor at Rutgers University

Roberto Lucchini, Director, Division of Occupational and Environmental Medicine, Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai, NY

MODERATOR:

Vinicius Pinheiro, Special Representative to the UN and Director, ILO Office for the UN
