

Confronting ageism and empowering older people to ensure social, economic and political inclusion of all

9 July 2019, 1.15-2.30pm - Conference Room 1, UNHQ

The Sustainable Development Goals recognise that development will only be sustainable if it is inclusive, leaving no one behind. Despite this, older people face widespread ageism and are often excluded from SDGs mechanisms and locked out of development by discriminatory laws, policies and attitudes in contexts such as employment, education, health services and beyond.

This event, organised by the Stakeholder Group on Ageing, will bring together a range of experts to examine how ageism and discrimination contribute to growing inequality, and how legal and policy frameworks are necessary for addressing older people's exclusion. It will explore the potential for positive impact for individuals, societies and economies if older people are empowered, ageism is combatted, and a new understanding of ageing is embedded across all generations.

Programme

- Welcome by Ms. Amal Abou Rafeh, Chief of Programme on Ageing, UNDESA
- Moderation by Mr. Paul Ladd, Director of UNRISD

Panellists

- Ambassador Martin Garcia Moritan, Permanent Representative of Argentina to the United Nations
- Ms. Nasly Bernal Prada, First Secretary, Permanent Mission of Chile to the United Nations
- Ms. Ashton Applewhite, author of This Chair Rocks: A Manifesto Against Ageism
- Mr. Elie Mugabowishema, Executive Director and founder of NSINDAGIZA in Rwanda
- Ms. Karoline Schmid, Chief of the Fertility and Family Planning Section, UNDESA Population Division
- Ms. Moana Genevey, Equinet, European Network of Equality Bodies

Close by Ms. Erica Dhar, SGA co-chair

Please RSVP here. Registration is open to all with UN passes during the HLPF. For further information, please contact mariana.rudge@helpage.org