

Senior Operations Manager at Ultrabulk Shipping A/S

Would you like to work in a dynamic and international environment, and are you an experienced and professional operations manager? Then this may be the position you are looking for.

The Job

As a Senior Operations Manager in our expanding parcel operations you hold an essential role in ensuring a high quality and flawless operation of our vessels and to meet the demands of our customers. You will be in daily contact with a number of parties such as captains, port agents, owners, charterers, and last but not least our Ultra-colleagues around our multiple offices worldwide. You will also be planning and executing stowage plans in close coordination with our dedicated port captains. You should have a constant focus on optimizing voyages by ensuring a close follow-up on voyage related expenses.

Your Profile

You have a solid experience as an operations manager, preferably from parceling operation. Your previous background may also include experience from working with a ship agency or maybe you have been at sea earlier in your career. You demonstrate good communication skills and possess a problem solving mindset. You are a team player and at the same time able to work independently by taking ownership of your tasks; your follow-up and ability to deliver is second to none. You thrive in a varied and unpredictable working environment where skills as persistence, overview and can-do attitude will support our ambition of being the preferred partner in our business .

You take pride in delivering good service to our customers and your approach and work is well-organized, structured and effective. In addition, you demonstrate an excellent attention to detail without missing the overall picture.

You appreciate working in a multicultural environment and you must be fluent in English, as it is our corporate language, knowledge of German is considered an advantage. Further, you must have good IT skills, knowledge of Softmar is an advantage.

What we offer

- Opportunity to work across many different offices around the world with very diversified trade areas
- A unique possibility to be an important part of the continued development and expansion of our operations
- Possibility to develop your interpersonal and well as professional skills
- To join a group with a financially strong platform, a business built on partnerships and long term relations
