Senior Clinical Trial Manager position

Zealand Pharma A/S is seeking an experienced Clinical Trial Manager to the Clinical Operations Department. The department is responsible for setting up, overseeing and directing clinical trials typically with the use of CRO's.

The department is part of Clinical Development and is composed of a dynamic team with enthusiastic and professional colleagues. We have an open and respectful environment encouraging knowledge sharing and where we welcome new ideas.

Due to the high number of new trials that we will initiate, we are seeking a new colleague to join the dasiglucagon team.

Job Profile

The successful candidate will be:

- Responsible for designing, planning, conducting and reporting of clinical trials
- Responsible for coordinating collaborations with CRO's and leading contract negotiations with CRO's
- Responsible for risk assessment of the clinical trials and the development of sponsor oversight plans
- Responsible for interacting with team members to ensure information flow and successful trial conduct
- Responsible for providing input to the clinical development strategies, sourcing strategies and interactions with regulatory authorities when relevant
- Responsible for adhering to and advancing the clinical operational procedures.

Candidate Profile

The successful candidate will have:

- An academic degree in medical, biological, health science, veterinarian or pharmaceutical sciences
- A minimum of 5 years of relevant clinical trial execution experience, preferable in phase 3 and within one or more of the following therapeutic areas: diabetes, gastrointestinal diseases, or orphan indications
- Experience from working in a CRO or in collaborating with CRO's
- Solid knowledge and experience within GCP, ICH and FDA/EMA regulations
- Proficiency in written and spoken English
- A quality mind-set
- A 'can-do' attitude, seeking solutions and able to keep perspective in a busy working environment
- Motivation and passion for clinical trials; being an inspiring team player.
