

A Crackin' Crewe Christmas 2021!

Christmas has been a big occasion in Blanchland since the monks first sang their carols in the 12th-century cloisters that now form our lovely gardens. This year (we are happy to announce) will be no different... Expect roaring fires, cosy hideaways, unforgettable feasting and a couple of cheeky surprises under our twinkling tree!

Christmas Eve

Muddle your way through the moors and arrive at the Crewe to a steamy brew by the fireside. Once you've headed to your room, unpacked, jumped on the bed (yes, we all do it!) and had a fashion show in your cosy robes, it will be just about time to join us in the Crypt Bar for a ladle-full of mulled wine before heading over to the village Abbey next door for the annual Blanchland carol service.

Afterwards, it's time to feast on à la carte with a bit of festive sprinkle, in the Bishop's Dining Room.

Christmas Day

Wake to a merry Northumberland breakfast. Then it's time to head down the stairs to your pressies opened by the warmth of the fireside (woolly socks and Santa hat mandatory).

Sufficiently relaxed and ready for the main event, it's back up the stairs for a traditional Christmas lunch served Smorgasbord-style and spoiled with all the trimmings.

Afterwards, wellies await and the moors beckon for a hardy stroll... or perhaps just a quick turn around the cloister gardens in a bid to rebuild the appetite ready for a Christmas night in front of the fire... traditional games for company and our grazing menu keeping you nicely topped up!

Boxing Day

Another delicious breakfast will be calling your name when you awake.

Perhaps a morning snooze will follow, before a valiant attempt to cram all the goodies from the day before into your suitcase!

For the afternoon, why not tootle down the hill to the pretty town of Corbridge, where the Tynedale Hunt hold their Boxing Day meet? Finally, a quiet evening by the fire is just the ticket...

**Please note that lunch is not included on Boxing Day.
To avoid disappointment please do book a table in advance!*
