Your Booking Guide

How to book

When you know that your ideal date is free, we welcome you to make a provisional reservation with us for your wedding.

We can hold the reservation for two weeks, and recommend that you contact the registrar to secure a time for the ceremony. Our local registrar is in Llandrindod Wells. Please note that if you reside in a different county to the hotel, you will also need to register your wedding at your own local registry office.

Please confirm your provisional reservation within two weeks by returning the signed terms and conditions along with a deposit of £500

Congratulations!

Your wedding date is secured, your reservation is confirmed! Now you can start to plan all the special details to your day, and we are here to help every step of the way!

The finer details...

On confirming your reservation, a deposit of £500 is required.

Your next deposit is due 5 months before the wedding, and is based on 40% of your estimated wedding invoice.

About 30 days before your wedding, a meeting is arranged to discuss everything from décor to dancing. This is also when final guest numbers are required, along with final food and beverage choices.

Following the meeting you will be supplied with your final wedding invoice, which is due to be settled 28 days before the wedding.

Then sit back, relax, and know that our experienced staff have everything under control for your special day.

To get your own perspective...

Why not book a meeting with our dedicated Wedding and Events Coordinator. Meetings can be conducted in person or virtually, and virtual tours of the hotel can be arranged for prospective couples who cannot easily get to us.

We hope to be able to welcome you to the hotel soon, and many congratulations on the beginning of the rest of your lives together.
