

Day of Immunology 2019

In Iran

Day of Immunology 2019 was celebrated by Iranian Society of Immunology and Allergy in different cities of Iran. In these ceremonies, Immunology professors and entrepreneurs in the field of Immunology shared their experiences in science and production with undergraduate and postgraduate students and colleagues and the retired professors were appreciated. In a friendly atmosphere, students and professors communicated and enjoyed this occasion. There were also some entertainment such as music performance and recreation quizzes. Some photos from Tehran, Isafan, Sari, and Ahvaz are included.
