

NATIONAL TRUST FOR SCOTLAND MEDIA RELEASE

20 November 2018

Festive after hours shopping and events at Falkland

The team at the National Trust for Scotland's Falkland Palace invite you to join them for their late night Christmas shopping events.

Falkland Palace and village are holding 3 weekly late night shopping events taking place on 21 and 28 November and also 5 December. Shops will remain open until 10pm and will offer a 10% discount to customers during these events.

Christmas trees, both cut and potted, will be on sale and can be ordered at the Palace gift shop. For those still searching for the perfect present, there will be a wide selection of gifts available that you won't see on the high street.

The Town Hall will have a wonderful range of plants, Christmas wreaths, bulbs and items grown or created by the property's gardeners, and there will be plenty of opportunity to find stocking fillers at the craft fair in the Town Hall.

Kaye Oswald, Retail Manager, Falkland Palace, said: "Over the years our late night shopping events have become a bit of an institution with customers coming from as far afield as Inverness and Glasgow! We're looking forward to welcoming return customers as well as new visitors this year."

As well as a wide range of shops to visit, local hostelrys will also be open, creating a wonderfully festive atmosphere.

- ENDS -

National Trust for Scotland Press Office. Contact Allie McAllister 0131 458 1696.

Editor's Notes:

