

<http://blogs.glam.com/glamchic/2011/10/28/wool-and-the-gangs-fun-fallwinter-wear/>

Wool and the Gang Takes Knitwear to the Next Level

By VALIS VICENTY 10.28.2011

Like 12 Tweet 5

One of our favorite parts of fall is the opportunity to cozy up in stylish knits. Wool and the Gang makes the most of the season by providing a slew of hand knit styles for women and children. There is much more than just scarves, hats and mittens in the brand's newest collection—we're loving the Sideline top, Team sweater and Matchpoint skirt, which offer a fun twist on the season's staple. The newest collection blends Wool and the Gang's silky Pima Cotton with its Baby Alpaca wool. While the pieces are hand knit in Peru's Puno region, crafty types can stitch almost all of the styles with knitting kits that include the wool, pattern, knitting needles and patches to customize your freshly finished project. How's that for a haute hobby? And if you're new to needles, there's no need to worry as the brand features many video tutorials on its site.

Whether you buy or DIY, these knits are it!

Available at WoolandtheGang.com for $85-$440.