Wool and the Gang

1 / 8

REVIEW

Artistry is getting more and more pronounced in what may be Manhattan's most up and coming retail trend. Wool and the Gang provides not only ready-made knitwear, but knitting kits for novices and experts that want to get in on producing their own fabulously made products. Items on the rack are comfy and chic, like thick gauge capelets, chunky snoods, and a cool color-scheme that would work well in anyone's winter wardrobe. Wool and the Gang's owner Lisa Sabrier was born and raised in the Swiss Alps, so you can trust that she knows a thing or two about knitwear. Employees are attentive and ready to help you through selecting your first kit, from color to yarn, available in baby alpaca, wool, and pima cotton. It can be a personal project, but we highly recommend Wool and the Gang for gift-giving. After all, nothing says special like a hand-knit scarf.
