

small reports- wool and the gang

Wool and the Gang is the brainchild of two old friends who make style with thick needles and they have just introduced a kids line. You can purchase the items ready made, individually handknitted in Peru, or buy the kits to knit them for yourself at home. All the wool and cotton has been sourced from Peru and comes with the kit, or you can buy the yarn directly from their site. Their blog and website takes you step by step with video help for beginners and is full of knitted inspiration for everyone else. Their shop is stocked with great adult sized designs as well as kids and even has some free patterns you can try.

Besides staging international knitting parties, events and fashion parades the ladies behind Wool and the Gang have their own cool store in downtown Manhattan that I am definitely checking out. Look at all those colors!
